

Research Design and Analysis

This is a website for the data analysis module in Research Design and Analysis.

In the top navigation bar, you can find the following materials.

Readings

This page contains all readings and data needed for examples in the readings.

Session Materials

This page contains a Quarto notebook for each class session and accompanying data.

Resources

This page contains links to additional resources for learning data analysis with R.